

Good afternoon friends

At the outset we wish All our worthy Colleagues a Safe Sheath from the corona virus pandemic.

Being uncertain of the period of this crises of isolation from our work places, we need to explore and use the other sources and resources to connect with our teachers, students and parents in order to make this quiet time a quality- learning - time.

Please start using Google, Zoom, Microsoft, Skype and WhatsApp also where students do not have access to technology to chat, interact and send assignments.

We have received information from some of our states where they have successfully implemented this alternate source of teaching and learning where whole school is connected online and exchanging notes and assignments both ways.

Hence, each state is requested to get on the task and share your initiatives on the group for the information of all.

This is a time for everyone to help and learn from each other in the best use of technology at hand.

Pls feel free to share your problems and difficulties in taking up this task.

Wishing you ALL a successful and adventurous online teaching, training and learning experience.

With warm regards,
Dr Nisha Peshin.
